TRAINING OF EXCELLENCE

PERIPROSTHETIC JOINT INFECTIONS (PJI)

Date June 13-14, 2022

Content This course is focused on the surgical treatment of PJI. You will have the chance to discuss your questions, especially the topic of the famous one-stage exchange of infected joints, with distinguished experts in orthopaedic surgery and microbiology. Additionally, you will have the opportunity to discuss indications for different types of prostheses and their role in eradicating infections applying specialist surgical techniques. We will work in a small group to allow for lively discussion and exchange of ideas, with an interactive combination of theory and live surgeries, which will take place at Helios ENDO-Klinik Hamburg.
